

RethinkEd – Be the Change: Video and Statement of Solidarity

We at Rethink Ed are heartbroken with the violent deaths of George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, Ahmaud Arbery, and others who unfortunately are part of a long history of senseless acts of racism in our country. We stand in solidarity with the Black community and acknowledge the pain and suffering that has too often gone unnoticed. We pledge our support and to do our part to end racism, inequity, and the social injustices that erodes the very fabric of our society and the dignity of all.

Rethink Ed supports our employees, partners, and communities by refusing to tolerate any form of racism. Through education and knowledge, we can change the world and help ourselves and our students heal. We are committed to social justice and will continuously strive to find ways to listen better and learn together to see real and lasting change in all our hearts, minds and actions.

You must be the change you want to see in the world.

These words by Mahatma Gandhi remind us that we are responsible for the change that we want to see.

We hope the video below will provide support to all school communities.
